COAL AND FOOD PRICE PLOT SEEN

Alleged Fuel, Bread and Milk
Conspirators Face Prosecution.

Criminal prosecution of persons believed guilty of illegal practices in forcing up the price of coal, bread and milk, will be brought by the Department of Justice within the next few weeks, it was announced by the Attorney General yesterday.

"Wherever increase in the price of these commodities has been due to conspiracy or other unlawful action, the department will invoke against the offenders the severest penalties which the law prescribes," said the statement.

The Department of Justice, it was declared, has already initiated three separate investigations into the causes for existing high prices of various commodities, and it was rumored in official quarters yesterday that agents of the department have uncovered evidence which tends to show a conspiracy on the part of coal operators and coal carrying railroads to force up the price of fuel.

Substantiation of this belief it was pointed out that weather conditions have been excellent, so there could be no shortage of coal due to a blockade. The railroads contend they cannot handle the coal output of the mines on account of the car shortage, but at both the Department of Justice and the Interstate Commerce Commission it was declared no condition exists which would cause a natural shortage of cars.

Whole Country Suffers.

In further support of the charge that a conspiracy exists, it was said that all sections of the country are suffering equally, although there would be no cause for distant points to be affected seriously, because long hauls are favored. If the allegation of a real car shortage was true, it was declared, only those places immediately affected, which would be the shorter hauls, would suffer, and then for only a short time.

From all parts of the country complaints have been received by the Department of Justice, and considerable data have been gathered bearing on the situation, both from private persons and from district attorneys.

What the Department of Justice must prove, to establish its case, is a conspiracy for restraint of trade on the part of the railroads; a conspiracy to reduce production for the purpose of increasing the price of coal on the part of the operators; and, going to the bottom, a conspiracy to withhold coal from the market for the purpose of raising the price on the part of the middlemen.

The principal federal inquiry into the high price of milk centers at Boston, although investigations are under way in New York, Philadelphia, Washington and other cities.

The inquiry into bread prices, including the wheat situation, centers in Chicago.

VICTIM OF POVERTY FOUND DEAD IN LOFT

Jack Wells, 75 Years Old, Dies of Exposure and Malnutrition.

Huddled in the loft of a blacksmith shop at 114 Third street southwest, Jack Wells, 75 years old and for years a well-known character in Washington was found dead from malnutrition and exposure yesterday afternoon. The old man's bearded face, turned toward the roof of the shop, was as placid in death as it had been in life. He had earned his precarious livelihood by doing odd jobs about town and had no kin and few friends.

John Wells came here from Altoona so long ago that the exact year cannot be fixed. Several years ago a cousin, believed to be his last living relative, died at Altoona.

Wells was young and straight and tall of stature when he came here. Rheumatism afflicted him as years went on, until bent and crippled, he was reduced to a feeble, shivering, gathering paper. He and his little red push-cart were familiar to Washingtonians.

Some time ago Wells asked Charles H. Berry, a blacksmith, to allow him to use the loft of his shop for sleeping quarters. The permission was granted.

Not seeing Wells about the place yesterday, Mr. Berry investigated and found him lying among his rags in the loft. The police were notified and the body was removed to the morgue.

BEAR UPSETS A SCHOOL.

Bloomington, Pa., Nov. 5.—An event not on the program at the entertainment given by Miss Clara Cole, teacher of the Foster School, Briar Creek township, yesterday, was the appearance of a big black bear, which arose just in front of her as Miss Cole was taking a short-cut across a field. She, of course, was soon in the schoolhouse, with the door locked and a close watch kept for the pupils.

Two small sons of Charles Aton were breathless when they reached the door, for they were within fifty feet of the bear.

CENTENARIAN STILL WORKING.

Belvidere, N. J., Nov. 5.—Belvidere's centenarian, Thomas Paine, celebrated his 100th birthday today. He is known as Uncle Tommy and is in the best of health. Uncle Tommy fought in the Crimea, although he came to the United States when he was only seven years old. He was born in Ireland. He is a pensioner of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

"VERDUN SALONICA" NOT GOOD NAME FOR BABY, MAYOR HOLDS

Paris, Nov. 5.—Children's names in France can only be chosen from the calendar (which contains all the saints) and from ancient history, except by special permission to be obtained from the State attorney.

At Nice the guardian of the cemetery wished to register his latest child, a son, as "Verdun Salonica," but the mayor refused to accept such a name, as being contrary to the law. The father urged patriotic grounds and was able to plead that he had had fifteen children to name, ten being still alive, and so names were somewhat exhausted in the family.

POLAND REBORN

Germany and Austria Proclaim
It Hereditary Monarchy.

(By the International News Service.) Berlin (via Sayville), Nov. 5.—Poland, rich in romance, of storied interest almost unparalleled in fascination, was recreated today.

Proclamations re-establishing the right of the Polish nation to control its own destinies were read at Warsaw and at Lublin. General von Beseler officiated at Warsaw and General Kuk at Lublin.

The event, marking one of the greatest moments in the life of Europe, was commemorated by joint action of the German Emperor and the Emperor of Austria.

The form of government established by the proclamation is described as an autonomous hereditary monarchy. In effect it extends to the Polish provinces occupied by the central powers, with respect to city administration, rights of self-government similar to those enjoyed by the city of Warsaw since early in the war.

The exact delineation of the frontiers of the revived kingdom is left to the future, as is the question of who shall be placed upon the throne of the new kingdom. A Polish assembly is to be created.

General von Beseler, who while military governor of Belgium earned warm commendation from the American relief administrators by his practical sagacity, will for the present exercise chief authority.

The ancient kingdom of Poland, whose splendor was the glory of four centuries, has been recreated the return of the war. Millions have been killed and 20,000 hamlets, villages and towns have been laid waste.

NO SPECIAL WIRES FOR SHADOW LAWN RETURNS

Wilson Cancels Order for Telegraphic Election Service.

(By the International News Service.)

Asbury Park, N. J., Nov. 5.—President Wilson is so confident of re-election on Tuesday that he has cancelled the order for a special telegraph over which it was planned to receive the returns from Shadow Lawn. He told friends today he was only interested that the verdict of the American jury should be sufficiently large to be called unanimous.

Joseph P. Tinkley, Secretary to the President, and the White House staff will receive the returns over special wires at the executive offices in Asbury Park. A telephone wire will be kept open to the President's summer home, but beyond this no special arrangements have been made.

Mr. Wilson will have with him only the immediate members of his household when the results are made known. He spent today reading telegrams from all parts of the country which predicted an overwhelming Democratic victory.

A financier with Wall Street connections, telephoned late this evening that the Republican National Committee from Michigan had conceded the election, and had only a slight chance of holding the State in the Republican column.

HUGHES SERENE AND CONFIDENT

Takes First Real Rest in Last Twenty-one Weeks.

(By the International News Service.)

New York, Nov. 5.—Probably the most serenely confident man, politically, in New York today was Charles Evans Hughes.

On the ground that he had said his last say at the Madison Square Garden demonstration Saturday night, the Republican Presidential candidate declined to make any statements. He talked freely with his friends, however, and was in better shape, physically, in better spirits, and had a more definite view of the result of Tuesday's election than at any time since the opening of his campaign.

To the correspondents who had made the long coast-to-coast journey with him he practically remarked this atmosphere of confidence and victory which permeated the Hughes private apartments in the Hotel Astor.

Hughes absolutely believes he will be elected President Tuesday.

When the candidate awoke at 10 o'clock this morning with nothing to do for the first time since last June, actually twenty-one weeks had elapsed since a similar awakening the day following his nomination—except that he then had all the labor of the campaign ahead of him. In the intervening period the candidate declared today, the issues have unfolded in practically the same manner which he had hoped for, right down to last night's demonstration in his home State, which Hughes considers the climax of the entire campaign, and the point where the rest can be left in the hands of the voters.

His work done, he will now quietly await the action of the voters Tuesday. Tonight, the candidate and Mrs. Hughes spent with their grandchildren.

Tuesday he will vote in a laundry in Eighth avenue near Forty-fifth street, and in the evening, with his family, and no one else, around him, he will receive the returns in his private apartments in the Astor, into which two telegraph wires have been strung.

LONG-DISTANCE PLEA BY PHONE FOR HUGHES

Mrs. Blatch, in Chicago, Talks to Western Women Voters.

(By the International News Service.)

Chicago, Nov. 5.—The last appeal to the women of the twelve suffrage States to push their shoulders to the wheel and work for the election of Charles Evans Hughes and the triumph of suffrage was made tonight by Mrs. Harrie Stanton Blatch, of New York City, speaking from the stage of the Blackstone Theater, under the auspices of the National Woman's Party.

Mrs. Blatch talked into a telephone transmitter, and her words were carried by long distance wires to audiences assembled at Topeka, Kan.; Denver, Col.; Phoenix, Ariz.; Cheyenne, Wyo.; Salt Lake City, Utah; Helena, Mont.; Boise, Idaho; Seattle, Wash.; Portland, Ore.; Reno, Nev., and San Francisco, Cal.

In her talk the suffrage leader declared that Tuesday's election will be so close that every vote will be of critical value to the major parties. The women, she said, held in the hollow of their hands the making or unmaking of a President.

She held President Wilson directly responsible for the Democratic party attitude toward the enfranchisement of women.

If You Want to Know The Winner, Read This

(By International News Service.)

New York, Nov. 5.—The following election forecasts were made by rival campaign managers tonight, forty-eight hours before the counting of ballots in the Presidential contest.

By Vance McCormick, chairman of the Democratic National Committee:

"I still stick to my prediction that President Wilson will receive at least 34 of the 54 votes in the electoral college. He may get more, but not less."

By William R. Wilcox, chairman of the Republican National Committee:

"Mr. McCormick's figures are so ridiculous that they do not merit a moment's serious consideration. We are perfectly satisfied that we shall have more than 300 votes in the electoral college."

"FIGHT IS WON" AVERS WILSON

President Confident, but Wires
Chairmen to Be "Vigilant."

(By the International News Service.)

Asbury Park, N. J., Nov. 5.—President Wilson tonight wired the following telegram to every Democratic State and County chairman in the country.

"I thank you heartily for the splendid work done by you and by all the workers in the cause of progressive principles at issue in this campaign.

"The fight is won. I fully believe; though I take this means of urging you to renewed exertions and vigilance to see that belated efforts to confuse the public judgment do not succeed.

"Our country is prosperous, secure and happy, and its prosperity is upon a sound basis. Steps to protect our commerce and to secure our duty to the world, after the European war ends have been taken. The anti-dumping clause of the so-called war revenue act provides the executive with ample power to prevent the dumping of European surplus manufactures upon our market. The tariff commission shortly will be appointed and at work to provide the facts which will determine what other legislation is necessary or desirable. I need not add that the Federal Reserve act is a guarantee against panics and that the Federal Trade Commission will aid, as it already has helped, to preserve the stability of our domestic and foreign commerce.

"I am confident that the time has passed in America when votes can be bought, the ballot box defiled by corrupt practices, or the judgments of the American people determined or influenced in any way by the use of money. It is, however, our duty to take precaution, lest conscienceless agents of the sinister forces working in opposition to progressive principles and popular government resort in their desperation to industrial coercion or to the evil and insidious practices of a decade and more ago."

Murphy, Tammany chieftain, declares that reports from his lieutenants indicate a substantial plurality for President Wilson, while Republican officials declared Hughes will come to New York City with 150,000 plurality and will carry the State by 150,000.

By Charles F. Murphy, leader of Tammany Hall—The reports handed in by the Tammany leaders are very satisfactory, indeed. They indicate a substantial plurality for President Wilson. I will carry this State and sweep the County of New York.

By Herbert Parsons, Republican National Committee—I am convinced that Hughes will win by a large plurality. My prediction is that Hughes will have not less than 150,000 plurality in New York State.

By Frederick C. Tanner, chairman of the Republican National Committee—The latest canvasses confirm my statement of last Monday that Mr. Hughes will carry New York State by more than 100,000 and that Gov. Whitman, William M. Calder and the entire Republican ticket will be elected by substantially the same plurality.
